

The Taj Mahal, a stunning white marble mausoleum situated in Agra, India, stands as a testament to love, built by Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his beloved wife, Mumtaz Mahal who died in childbirth. Considered a masterpiece of Mughal architecture, this iconic monument features intricate carvings, symmetrical design, and a magnificent central dome, making it one of the most recognized and visited landmarks globally. Its pristine white marble reflects the changing hues of the sky, creating a mesmerizing visual spectacle, especially at sunrise and sunset, further solidifying its status as a symbol of enduring love and artistic brilliance.

Key points:

- Location: Agra, India
- Builder: Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan
- Purpose: Tomb for Mumtaz Mahal
- Architectural style: Mughal, blending Indian, Persian, and Islamic elements
- Notable features: White marble, intricate carvings, symmetrical design, central dome, reflecting pools in the surrounding gardens